

Zalizniak Yana is currently studying PhD program at Uman National University of Horticulture, Ukraine.

Her research interests are mainly focused on anthropogenic impact on river geosystems and water management.

Academic interest:

- Water management
- Cartographic model
- Nature management
- Vulnerability of water resources

PhD topic:

Transformation of river geosystems of Vinnytsia region in the conditions of intensive nature management.

PhD supervisor:

Prof. Sergiy Sonko - Doctor of Sciences (Geographic), Full Professor, Head of the Department of Ecology and Life safety of the Uman National University of Horticulture.